Instructions

1. There are 10 scenarios you might encounter any given day on the way to the school.
2. Read the scenarios and pick the answer you're more likely to take in that situation.
3. Once finishes compare you answers to the result sheet.

01. Monday morning. Your alarm goes off. You need to get ready for school.

A: I get up. No need to sleep in. I don't want to get in to trouble.

B: I hit the snooze and have five more minutes of sleep.

02. You finally get up, but still feel kind of sleepy. A refreshing shower should wake you up.

A: Can't go out without a shower, even if it means I'll be a bit late.

B: Skip the shower today, I had one last night. I really need to be on time today.

03. Getting dressed is an important part of every morning, but where did you put your uniform?

A: I already sorted it out last night and it's nicely hanging over my door.

B: I swear I saw it somewhere. Probably under that pile of clothes...

04. Uniform - check, bag - check, homework - check, food...nope

A: Eat breakfast and risk being a bit late.

B: Skip breakfast, I'll wait until lunch time.

05. Finally on your way but the streets are noisy and you want to block them out. You've got headphones in your bag and a new playlist on your phone. The road to school will be paved with tunes.

A: I take out my headphones and listen to music on the way to school.

B: I'll resist the temptation. Best to stay on the ball without any distractions.

06. You're still hungry. You fancy a roll, but do you have time

A: There's always time for food.

B: Not today, I don't. Better get to school on time.

07. You get a text message from a pal asking why you're taking so long. You start to reply unwittingly stepping out onto the road. A car comes from nowhere but manages to stop just in time.

A: Wow, I was so distracted by my phone that I almost got hit by a car. Not good.

B: That was a close one. The driver should have been concentrating. The car nearly ran me over.

08. The bus is fast approaching the stop but you still have to get across the road. The traffic's really busy. You press the button on the pedestrian crossing. It's taking ages to change

A: I need to get that bus. I'll make a run for it. It'll be fine.

B: I need to get that bus, but I'm not going to risk it. I'll wait for the green man.

09. You missed the bus! The next one is in 10 minutes but you're already running late.

A: I'll wait for the next one.
Hope I've got enough change.

B: I'll keep walking. Saves money and might even get me there on time.

10. You hear the school bell go off. You can still make it, but the pedestrian crossing is further down the road.

A: I can't miss class.

B: There are too many cars.
Better go to the pedestrian crossing. Don't want to take the risk of being hit by traffic.

Count your points

Check your answers on the questions and see how much points you have earned for each answer, then compare the total to the results on the result page how well you make decisions.

The Game

Count all of your points and compare your score with the result board below.

Your score / 20

(0-5) NICE ONE

You've pretty much got it sussed - you know that bad decisions can be dangerous decisions and you're not going to put yourself, or anyone else, at risk.

(6-10) NOT BAD

You made some good decisions. Think about your actions and how this may have a knock on effect on events to follow.

(11-15) WAKEY, WAKEY

Some of the decisions you made weren't great. Hopefully you'll make the right choice when in the real world. You don't want to be taking any unnecessary risks.

(16-20) OH DEAR...

Some of the decisions you made weren't great and could have put you, and others, at serious risk. You need to keep yourself safe, so please don't take unnecessary risks - look after yourself!
